Sept. 8th: Free Tour and Meal 5:30 – 7:30

Sept. 9th: Cover Crop School (all day) 9-5

In addition to the general public free cover crop tour, this year we are doing a full day, in-depth cover crop school, featuring Kris Nichols, USDA Soil Microbiologist from Mandan, ND. Kris has been a very popular speaker at no-till events and will be showing how cover crops improve the soil and soil microbiology. Other speakers include Dr. Ray Ward of Ward Labs, Ken Miller, grazing expert from Bismarck, ND and Keith and Brian Berns of Bladen. Special invited guests include Jill Clapperton of Earthspirit Consulting and Francis Yeatman of South Africa.

The school will feature tours of demonstration plots of over 40 different cover crop species and mixes. We will also have demonstrations and explanations of seeding rate trials, tissue sampling methods, cover crop grazing, soil pit analysis and much more. The cost for this school will be $150 per person and will be limited to the first 125 people to register. Green Cover Seed customers can attend FREE with a qualifying seed purchase. Check our website (www.greencoverseed.com) for more details. To sign up, complete the registration form and send back to Green Cover Seed.
